Blinding 22 In. Snow Dumped on Amarillo

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A raging, blinding snowstorm that dumped up to 22 inches of snow on portions of New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma today isolated scores of communities and caused three deaths.

The storm, a near-blizzard at many points, continued to bring more snow to the southwestern area during the day and whipped up drifts as deep as seven feet.

Highways and schools were closed and hundreds of motorists were stranded because of the ice-coated roads and deep snow drifts. But the moisture was welcomed by wheat farmers.

The storm's center was in eastern New Mexico, the panhandle of Texas and western Oklahoma. Slow steady rains, sometimes mixed with snow, fell to the south of the storm's center.

Near-blizzard conditions prevailed over most of the Texas panhandle with 22 inches of snow at Borger and more than 14 at Spearman and 10 at Peryton.

Tribal Terror in Anti-white African Drive

By ROBIN P. MANNOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A white doctor's brew of tribal magic, terror, antiwhite hatred and crude Communist slogans is the latest formula for subversion and revolt in the Congo.

The bloodstained rebellion in Kwilu Province is led by Pierre Mulele, 34-year-old former education minister who has visited both Moscow and Peking.

Mulele's Chinese-backed uprising started six months ago with fewer than 75 men. Today he has several thousand fanatical warriors who control a region half the size of Belgium.

His soldiers say the white man stole their land and enslaved them. They believe the Communists will bring them "wonderful things."

American missionaries who survived attacks by Mulele's warriors reported hearing cries of "Russia" and "Moscow" as the terrorists closed in.

The warriors told the missionaries their chiefs promised the Russians would give them things possessed only by white men, and also would give them the land.

Captured documents, however, told of support from Peking for Mulele's revolt.

Western experts say someone well versed in guerrilla tactics is behind the assaults on missions in which an American woman missionary and three Belgian Roman Catholic priests have been killed.

Government forces have captured the notebook of a man who attended a guerrilla school. It is believed to be Mulele's.

"It's the sort of stuff the Communists crib from each other," U.S. Ambassador Edmund Cullin said after a trip to Kwilu. He said the notebook contained ideas from Cuban guerrilla specialist Ernesto Guevara and China's Mao Tse-tung.

Until two weeks ago, Kwilu was a prosperous agricultural province in the southwest Congo dotted with mission stations where the Congolese sought education and medical care.

The government still holds the larger towns, but Mulele rules the countryside of eastern and southern Kwilu.

The missionaries were forced to flee. Many were told they would not be harmed if they left.

But the rebels have no mercy for Africans. About 150 provincial government officials have been slaughtered, according to latest reports.

U.S. Reviewing Burton's Visa

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Four Cuban fishing boats and their crews were held here today while Cuba and the United States prepared protests about the Cubans' disputed position. Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa contended the fishing boats were detained on the high seas and forced into U.S. territorial waters by armed U.S. Coast Guard patrol craft, a Havana broadcast said.

Roa said protests would be made to the U.S. State Department and the United Nations, and ordered an energetic demand for release of the boats and 38 crewmen.

A State Department official said the United States planned to protest violation of U.S. territorial waters by Fidel Castro's commercial fishermen.

The four fishing boats were intercepted off Dry Tortugas Sunday and escorted 65 miles east to Key West where crews were questioned.

U.S. officials sought to learn what brought the Cuban fishing vessels to the spot where they were intercepted.

Republicans Are Against Rights Bill

The Hempstead County Republican Committee has stated its opposition to the Civil Rights bill as it is now being debated in congress and urges citizens of this county to write all Arkansas Congressmen to oppose this bill.

A pamphlet prepared by 2 members of the American Bar Association describes it as a blueprint for total federal regimentation. The pamphlet points out if this bill is passed it will destroy the constitutional check and balances between the executive, judicial, and legislative branches of government.

The civil rights act is skillfully drawn with the patent deliberate intent to destroy all effective constitutional limitations upon extension of federal power over the lives of individuals and states.

The Republican committee of Hempstead County says you should oppose this bill if you own a home, are an employee or employer, belong to a union, pay a license tax to a state or city, offer goods or services to the public, borrow money from a bank, deposit money in a bank, benefit from any federal farm program, have a child in school, receive social security, veteran's benefits, old age pensions, retirements, or vote in any election. If you do any of these things the civil rights bill will affect you.

The republican committee further believes that the term civil rights is only a cloak; uncontrolled federal executive power is the real aim, and they urge you to write your congressman today in opposition to this frightening bill. The republican committee is not seeking to suppress the legitimate rights of Negroes in this county or nation, but the truth is they would be subject to all these things and would not materially benefit from such legislation.

Through Magic of Memory Past Events of Our Lives Can Be Born and Re-born

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Memory is the only kind of an after life we know while still on earth. Through the magic of remembrance the past events of our existence can be born and re-born as often as fond recollection desires.

But as rings of growth date a tree, so do the memories we like to recount dat eus surely and perhaps more certainly than we'd sometimes really care to reveal.

There's no doubt at all, for example, that you've been through quite a few cycles of sunshine and storm if you can look back and remember when.

Many a young man aspired to own his own livery stable, because, after all, what other business offered a more secure future?

A fellow who preferred cigarettes to chewing tobacco or cigars was regarded as a sissy.

"I Wonder What Became of Sally" was one of America's favorite songs.

A working man thought he had a swell job if he only had to put in half a day on Saturdays.

SHOP BOMBED — E. D. White's cut-rate barber shop in Jackson, Miss., was leveled by a blast heard for miles. White said he would be back in business soon and would continue to charge 75 cents for a haircut despite anonymous threats because of his prices.

Convicted Rapist to Be Questioned

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office will question William L. Maxwell, a convicted rapist, Friday about his appeal to U.S. District Court in an attempt to escape death in the electric chair.

U.S. District Judge Gordon E. Young signed an order Monday directing that the attorney general's office question Maxwell, who was convicted in March 1962 by a Garland County Circuit Court jury of raping a Hot Springs white woman.

Maxwell, a Negro, was scheduled to die in the electric chair Jan. 24. Four days before the scheduled execution, his attorney, George Howard of Pine Bluff, petitioned U.S. District Court for a writ of habeas corpus, alleging that Negroes had been excluded from the trial jury.

Maxwell said he was entitled to a new trial because the jury list designated the race of veniremen. Maxwell said he had been deprived of his constitutional rights.

Young set a hearing on Maxwell's petition for next Wednesday.

He directed the attorney general's office to take recovery depositions, or testimony, from Maxwell. Asst. Atty. Gen. Jack L. Lessenberry had requested authority to take the depositions on behalf of Dan D. Stephens, superintendent of prisons.

Lessenberry said arguments presented by Maxwell's attorney were not brought up during his trial in circuit court.

Lessenberry said Maxwell would be brought to the attorney general's office Friday for the testimony.

Blowout Causes Fatal Accident

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP)—Edmond Clayton Johnson, 55, of Star City, was killed Monday when a blowout on his gravel truck caused the vehicle to crash into a ditch beside state Highway 81 just south of Star City.

Authorities said gravel poured into the cab and crushed Johnson.

Left Turn Tryout on Signal Lights

Last night the Hope City Directors approved a Planning Commission proposal that a street leading into property owned by Jack Cornelius be dedicated. The street involved is on Spruce between East 15th and East 16th.

Plans made by the Community Theater group to remodel the city auditorium stage was approved.

The groups also decided to try out a left hand signal on the three signal lights on Third. If it works well the left turn will be made permanently.

The group also discussed plans to recode all city ordinances.

Baker Made Money From Both Ends

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators disclosed testimony that Bobby Baker who is raking in money both from the seller and the buyer in a Haitian meat deal.

The testimony pictured Baker as helping to engineer the deal, which in the beginning involved Jose Benitez, who was identified as Puerto Rico's Democratic national committeeman.

The complex transaction was described by Francis E. Law and Thomas Webb Jr., Washington business partners, who said they also got a cut of the two-way profit.

Law and Webb testified at closed hearings last week of the Senate Rules Committee. The Senate group is investigating the outside business operations of Baker, who resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Sen. Albert D. Gore, D-Tenn., promised meanwhile to introduce a resolution to widen the Rules Committee's authority in investigating all the ins and outs of the case.

One issue has been whether the group has authority to investigate senators and aides to senators — as distinguished from employees of the Senate itself — concerning their dealings with Baker. Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., insists it lacks such powers and is "not investigating senators."

The committee is investigating whether Baker's outside business dealings involved conflict of interest or other improprieties, and whether any other Senate employees were involved. Baker resigned Oct. 7 as secretary to the Democratic Senate majority.

The testimony to be made public today was taken at a closed session last week from Thomas Webb Jr. and Francis Law, Washington lawyers who have been linked with Baker in connection with a Haitian meat deal.

The testimony also is expected to shed more light on other ventures in which Baker's name has figured. These include a Florida real estate transaction, and the purchase of $250,000 worth of an insurance company's stock.

Bulletins

LONDON (AP) — President Makarios of Cyprus today accepted with qualifications the British-American plan for sending an Allied peace-keeping army into Cyprus.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Curtis Publishing Co., settled today with Alabama Coach Paul Bryant for $300,000 in his libel suit against the Saturday Evening Post.

Bryant's attorneys accepted the sum in settlement of Bryant's two suits — one for $10 million and the other for $500,000. Both were to come to trial in a Birmingham federal court Feb. 10.

The Alabama coach had sued Curtis, publishers of the Post, for an article which charged him with conspiring with former Georgia Athletic Director Wally Butts to rig a football game.

The $500,000 action was for an earlier article in the Post which alleged that Bryant condoned brutality among his players.

Butts won a $3.6-million judgment in the trial of his $10-million suit against the magazine. The trial judge later reduced the amount to $460,000.

Navy Sends Satellite Up Secretly

By FRANK CAREY
A.P. Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy disclosed today it has secretly launched a satellite to monitor solar X rays and transmit the information to 15 nations during this period called the "years of the quiet sun."

The satellite may help in eventual development of a system for predicting storms on the sun which bedevil some radio communications on earth and pose a threat to manned space flight.

The Navy in its announcement didn't give details on the size of the spacecraft or when it was launched but indicated it was put into orbit riding piggyback on some other satellite.

More information is expected at a news conference later in the day.

Already, the Navy scientists reported, the satellite has determined that the sun is fast approaching its "minimum of activity" in its 11-year cycle of sunspot activity.

This period of relative calm should last about two years, thus the 1964-1965 period was given the scientific designation of the international years of the quiet sun.

The Navy noted that the new spacecraft is the latest in a series of Navy solar-monitoring satellites. Three others were launched in 1960, 1961 and 1963 respectively but the Navy said the new one is now "the only active solar monitor in orbit."

In explaining the potential value of the satellite, scientists of the Naval Research Laboratory said solar X rays and ultraviolet rays create the ionosphere, the region of electrified air at altitudes of about 50 miles which acts as a radio mirror and makes possible round-the-world short wave radio communication.

Tax Bill Fight for Additional College Credit

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today narrowly beat down, 48-45, a proposal to allow a special income tax credit for parents putting their children through college.

The vote was a major victory for the Johnson administration, which had marshaled all its forces to try to defeat the proposal as an amendment to the $11.6-billion tax cut bill.

Democratic leaders said the cost of the college tax credit would be so great that, if it were adopted, it probably would be necessary to cut back on the individual income tax rate reductions in the bill. It could amount to $750 million the first year, they said.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., who sponsored the Accident Touches Off Negroes

By ED MCCUSKER

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A traffic injury to a Negro pedestrian has touched off this Mississippi capital city's first racial demonstrations in more than six months.

Police used tear gas and warning blasts from shotguns to break up a protest Monday night involving about 1,000 Negroes — many of them high school and college students.

Earlier officers had quelled a protest march by barking commands to disperse through bullet horns.

Three Negroes received treatment for superficial gunshot wounds following the second flareup on the campus of Jackson State College, a state-supported all-Negro institution.

Last summer more than 1,000 Negroes were arrested during a month of demonstrations climaxed by the assassination of a Negro leader.

Mamie Ballard, 20, of Flora, Miss., a Jackson State coed suffered a fractured leg late Monday when she was struck by a car while crossing Lynch Street, a busy thoroughfare which cuts through the campus. Witnesses said the driver was a white person.

Officers said later they had arrested the motorist, who was ticketed for failure to yield to a pedestrian. Police declined to identify the motorist.

Small groups of students began to protest speeding on Lynch Street, which has a 35-mile an hour speed limit. As the crowd grew they began marching in the street, shouting and singing "freedom songs."

The milling students blocked traffic but dispersed when police arrived.

Many went to a college basketball game. After the game, the demonstration started again.

Police reinforcements sealed off both the Jackson State campus and that of adjoining Campbell Christian College, a small Negro church — supported school.

Officers at first banned newsmen from the area. Later newsmen and photographers were permitted to enter.

U. G. Garrett in Race for County Judge

The Star today was authorized to announce the candidacy of U. G. Garrett for the office of county judge. In announcing his candidacy Mr. Garrett made the following statement:

To The Citizens of Hempstead County:

"After careful consideration of the solicitation of my many friends that have asked me to seek the office of County Judge of Hempstead County, I do now hereby offer my services.

"Realizing the responsibilities and problems that confront the judge, I do believe that the experience that I have had in the General Supervision of the county business, and the construction and maintenance of the county roads will help us to accomplish more for the county.

"I shall at all times be working for better things for our town and cities, our schools, hospitals and roads. Together we can do much.

I pledge you my best. I humbly solicit your vote and support."

Names Highway Safety Council

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus today appointed a State Safety Council, aimed at reducing highway accidents.

It included 20 men from various parts of the state. Faubus told them he expected them to recruit others to help in the program.

Bill Apple of Little Rock, who helped organize a similar group in the capital city, told the state council that it must teach the state's traffic laws, how to apply them and how to drive safely.

Apple said a full-time director would be named soon for the Little Rock program. He said one eventually would be needed for the state program.

Faubus said the State Police, Highway Department, Labor and Department and his own office would help the Safety Council.

Rights Backers Cautiously Optimistic

By JOHN W. BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — House backers of the civil rights bill were cautiously optimistic today as they faced a fight to hold the key public accommodations section in the bill.

Regarded by many Negro leaders as the heart of the omnibus bill, it would ban racial discrimination in restaurants, hotels, theaters and other places serving the general public.

The provision is one of three on which Southern Democrats hope to pick up enough Republican support to get crippling or limiting amendments approved.

The other two are the sections banning racial discrimination in employment and in federally aided programs. Action on them will come later in the week.

At least a dozen amendments are expected to be offered to the public accommodations section and it may not be possible to complete action on it today.

The bill's supporters took heart from a 176-125 victory Monday on the first big challenge thrown at them — an amendment to strike from the bill a provision for a three-judge court to speed action of voting cases.

The amendment was proposed by Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., floor leader for the Southern forces.

The 51-vote victory margin, coming after more than two hours debate, gave an obvious psychological boost to the bill's supporters.

Testimony of Mrs. Oswald Kept Secret

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The secretly given testimony of Mrs. Marina Oswald on events preceding the assassination of President John F. Kennedy "may not be released in your lifetime," Chief Justice Earl Warren has disclosed.

Warren said the presidential investigating commission which he heads will issue a statement — perhaps Wednesday — when it finishes questioning its first witness, the slim and pretty widow of Lee Harvey Oswald.

She goes before the commission again today. "I don't know how newsworthy" the commission's statement will be, Warren told reporters. He added that if it contains information affecting national security, it may be suppressed for decades — "and I say that seriously."

This suggested that the commission intends to explore as thoroughly as possible, through Mrs. Oswald and other witnesses, delicate subjects such as Oswald's 1959 visit to Russia, his unsuccessful efforts to defect to the Soviet Union and his attempts, on a Mexican visit last September, to obtain visas for Russia or Cuba.

But Monday's day-long questioning of the Russian-born, 29-year-old Mrs. Oswald — who believes her Marxist husband assassinated Kennedy — dealt with Oswald's activity and movements in the United States, after he brought his bride here.

This was reported by the commission's general counsel, J. Lee Rankin, during a break in the laborious testimony-taking through a State Department interpreter.

"Mrs. Oswald told us some things we hadn't heard before — some new things, new evidence," Rankin told questioners. He said she was "a very cooperative witness."

Warren declined to confirm Rankin's reference to "new evidence" when reporters intercepted him leaving the commission's offices later. "I would not comment on a witness' testimony in the middle of it," the chief justice said.

In the area of testimony mentioned by Rankin, the questioning presumably covered the source of the money which paid for Oswald's travels, his purchase of the mail-order rifle which Texas authorities say killed Kennedy, and any possible link between Oswald and Jack Ruby.

Ruby, a Dallas nightclub owner, shot Oswald to death in a Dallas police headquarters on Nov. 24, two days after the assassination.

Some Change in Amateur Golf Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—Qualifying rounds at the sites of major amateur golf tournaments have been added to the United States Golf Association's 1964 calendar.

A change in the USGA's tournament format announced Monday provides for 36-hole qualifying rounds prior to match play in the Women's Amateur, Junior Amateur, Girls' Junior and Senior Amateur championships.

The association had previously added an on-site, 36-hole qualifying round to the Men's Amateur tourney. The Amateur Public Links Championship pattern, including a qualifying round, remains unchanged.

Sectional qualifying in the men's tournaments, which draw large fields, will be continued, but more players will reach the championship proper before the list is pared.

Another change sets the minimum age limit for the Senior Amateur tourney at 50. The minimum age had been 55.

Match play in the Women's Amateur, Men's Senior and Girls Junior will be limited to 32 players while 64 will be eligible for the Public Links and Junior Amateur finals.

Three other USGA championships—the Men's and Women's opens and the Senior Women's—are determined by total strokes.

Visa to Liz's Boy Friend Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee was reported today to be investigating the State Department's grant of a visa to British actor Richard Burton.

Burton has been traveling throughout the world with actress Elizabeth Taylor. They have said they will marry as soon as she is divorced from singer Eddie Fisher.

A congressional source, who would not allow his name to be used, said a House Judiciary subcommittee, headed by Rep. Michael A. Feighan, D-Ohio, has called two State Department officials to a closed hearing on the subject today.

Feighan could not be reached for comment. No one would say exactly why the subcommittee questioned the granting of a visa to Burton, but it was understood the members wanted more information about the State Department's moral criteria when admitting aliens to the United States.

The congressional source said he personally doubted that the subcommittee had plans to proceed any further with the investigation and that it might end with today's hearing.

proposal, argued that the credit should be allowed to give a break to middle income families.

Opponents of the plan said it would not benefit the poor families needing help the most. The proposal was debated for four hours, sometimes heatedly, before the Senate adjourned Monday at 8:08 p.m. after a session of more than 10 hours. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield scheduled today's session two hours early to get in more work on the tax bill and act on Ribicoff's amendment.

Reaction to N.Y. School Boycott

NEW YORK (AP)—A "whoopie success," said a leader of the boycott for full integration of New York City's schools.

"Mostly a fizzle," said the school board president. Both were talking about the 464,362 pupils who stayed away from school for one day Monday.

President James B. Donovan of the Board of Education said: "All it did was furnish an excuse for kids to stay out."

Normally, 100,000 of the city's one million public school pupils stay home each day anyway because of illness or other reasons.

Of the 43,800 public school teachers in the nation's largest school system, 3,537 — three times more than normal — also were absent. Some joined picket lines of Negroes, Puerto Ricans and others outside the schools. Children also marched on picket lines.

There are 3,733 Negro and Puerto Rican teachers in the system.

The absent teachers face penalties ranging from loss of one day's pay to possible dismissal for neglect of duty unless they can give valid reasons for being absent. Board of Education officials said.

Civil rights groups that spearheaded the boycott had said they would retaliate if the board punishes teachers with anything more than loss of a day's pay.

The Rev. Milton A. Galamison, chairman of the citywide Committee for Integrated Schools, sponsor of the boycott, said the committee would meet "within the next 24 hours" to discuss another boycott. He said Feb. 11 and Feb. 25 had been suggested but no dates had been set.

But Galamison told more than 3,500 school pickets who rallied outside the Board of Education's Brooklyn headquarters: "If the board does what it has to do, another boycott will not be necessary."

The board last week offered a program to speed integration in some of the 165 predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican schools among the city's 863 public schools.

Galamison and other civil rights leaders claimed the program was too limited and too slow.

Mother, Son Die of Asphyxiation

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—H. Prince Pittman, 50, and his mother, Mrs. Anna Prince Pittman, 82, were found dead in their apartment at Conway Monday, and Coroner Robert Benfield said they apparently died by asphyxiation.

Mrs. Pittman was a retired college professor and civil service worker. She and her son recently returned to Conway from Washington.

Officer Tells of Offer of Promotion

By GAVIN SCOTT

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A former Teamsters union official offered a promotion to a Tennessee state trooper whose wife was on James R. Hoffa's conspiracy trial jury in 1962, a union member testified today.

Oscar Pitts, like Trooper James Paschal from Woodbury, Tenn., testified reluctantly that Ewing King—on trial with the Teamsters Union president and four others on jury-tampering charges—discussed Paschal while Hoffa's earlier trial was in progress in Nashville.

"Ewing says he could get him (Paschal) a promotion through Clement and Greg O'Rear," said Pitts, under repeated prodding from the government lawyers.

Gov. Frank Clement, who had not taken office yet, was elected to a four-year term while the Hoffa trial was in progress; O'Rear at the time was state safety commissioner and chief of the highway patrol.

Paschal's wife was removed from the jury in the 1962 Nashville trial after the government reported attempts to contact her. Her removal occurred several weeks before the end of the trial.

"Ewing asked me if Paschal would take money," Pitts said. "I told him I didn't think Paschal would take money from nobody...We wanted to get him a promotion. Paschal has been a patrolman 20 to 22 years and never has had a promotion."

"Ewing says he could get him a promotion...Ewing says he could get him a promotion through Clement and Greg O'Rear."

Following that conversation, Pitts said he arranged for King to meet Paschal Nov. 17, 1962, on a lonely road near Woodbury. FBI agents testified earlier that King and Paschal met shortly after 1 a.m. on Nov. 18 on a rainy, misty night.

Special Prosecutor John J. Hooker of Nashville asked Pitts repeatedly what conditions King attached to the offer of help in winning Paschal a promotion.

"I don't think there was nothing said that day about what he had to do. Not at that time," Pitts added. "We were talking about his wife being on that jury. There ain't no use in me lying. I'm telling you the truth."

Negro Threatens to Burn Himself

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—A Negro minister has threatened to burn himself Easter Sunday as a sacrifice to the civil rights movement if all color barriers are not dropped in this university town.

The Rev. B. Elton Cox, 32, North Carolina field secretary for the Congress of Racial Equality, made the threat at a rally Sunday, and encouraged other Negroes to do the same.

"If I thought it would do any good," the Rev. Mr. Cox said, "I would come to Chapel Hill, talk to town leaders and University of North Carolina officials."

Smokey Says:

Magness May Be Out for Rice Game

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas' top scorer, 6-6 Jim Magness, may not see action tonight when the Razorbacks face the tall Rice Owls in an important Southwest Conference basketball game at Fayetteville.

Magness, who has averaged 16.9 points per game this year, was admitted to the University infirmary Monday morning with what was believed to be the flu.

Coach Glen Rose said Magness had a high temperature and could not play if it didn't drop.

With Magness out, or at least hampered, the problem comes up of who is going to guard Rice's 6-10 Jerry Rhine, who averaged 25 points a game last year and dumped in 44 against Arkansas with two Razorbacks guarding him.

Rice comes into the game with a 2-2 conference record and the Razorbacks have a 3-1 Southwest mark.

Arkansas faces league-leading Texas A&M Saturday at College Station.

Against Rice, Rose will probably go with the same starters he has used in recent games, depending of course, on Magness' condition. Others are 6-5 John Talkington, 6-4 Warren Vogel, 6-1 Ricky Sugg and 6-1 Jim Jay.

Rice starters, besides Rhine, should be 6-6 Larry Phillips, 6-7 Don Stegmund, 6-1 Herb Steinkamp and 6-1 Barry Rodgigue.

poisoning of his system. "It was all in all too much to overcome," Paschal said.

Elder was stricken last week by an accidental overdose of drugs, Facundus said. His heart and breathing were completely stopped when Facundus first saw him at the hospital. Facundus and Paschal said they believed 20 minutes was the longest anyone had been apparently dead and then revived.

Brain deterioration usually begins after five to six minutes, Facundus said.

New Panel for Johnson Court

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Johnson County Circuit Court opens Monday at Clarksville with three new jury commissioners and an entire new petit jury list.

An earlier jury list was thrown out by Judge Wiley Bean after attorney Sam Sexton of Fort Smith asked that it be quashed on grounds of a possible conflict of interest.

One of the former jury commissioners, Garland Strong, is a brother-in-law of Armit Taylor, a member of the Arkansas Highway Commission.

Sexton represents several defendants in land condemnation suits filed by the Highway Commission.

Can Buy Bonds With Surplus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The attorney general's office said today that surplus money in a school district building fund could be invested in U.S. government bonds upon approval of the county court.

White County Treasurer Truett Langley had asked for the ruling. The opinion said the money could go into bonds if it was not needed for other purposes.

This Year Predicted to Be Better

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—This year may turn out to be less of a carbon copy of 1963 than many business forecasters believe. There are different forces at work this year.

The adjectives usually used to describe 1963 are bigger and better. Most predictions so far have pictured 1964 as becoming even bigger and still better.

But some economists, particularly in the banking world, are now pointing out the factors that could make this year quite different from its predecessor. They still think, however, that business expansion will continue—it'll just be along new lines and for other reasons.

The chief factors that made 1963 bigger and better than first expected are listed by economists of the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York, as record auto sales, a good rise in homebuilding, a large increase in government spending and a sizable expansion in money and credit.

The bank economists see all four likely to play a smaller role this year. Both the auto and the home industries could have a good 1964, the economists agree. But the jury list.

An earlier jury list was thrown out by Judge Wiley Bean after attorney Sam Sexton of Fort Smith asked that it be quashed on grounds of a possible conflict of interest.

they doubt if there will be an expansion in car and house sales at the same rate as in 1963. They also look for the Federal Reserve Board to keep expansion of credit smaller this year, in fear of inflation if for no other reason. And they see President Johnson's economy drive, if carried through, leading to little or no increase in business.

A chief new influence on this year's economy is the federal tax cut, now expected by the end of this month. How much of an influence, and on what sectors of the economy, is in considerable dispute.

But bankers especially are watching its possible effect on money and credit and on inflation, or further rise in prices. The Federal Reserve has warned that under some conditions credit might have to be tightened and interest rates allowed to rise.

Agreeing with this, the economists at the First National City Bank, New York, point out: "With the boost that demand will be getting from the tax cut, a further stimulus from easy money scarcely seems wise. If we are not to develop an unsustainable rate of expansion and borrow business from 1965, a monetary policy of judicious restraint may well be needed to create a climate in which price stability can be achieved."

Prices already are rising here and there, and increasing prosperity could furnish the climate for a widening of this trend. In the business sector this might upset one of the factors that made for stability in 1963 and bolstered hopes for 1964: moderation in the matter of inventories.

Economists at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York warn that "there is a risk that rising prices will spur stockbuilding."

But on the whole, they see the present inventory situation as quite healthy. The current business upswing is aging, as such economic cycles go, and at this stage stockbuilding usually is a factor in spurring business along. But the Federal Reserve economists note that "inventory levels relative to sales are now well below the levels reached at comparable stages of earlier postwar business cycles."

"Given the present inventory situation, there is little reason to expect that a recession will be triggered or fed by desires to reduce existing stocks, a condition that has been important in previous downturns," they add.

CHATTER

By "BILL"

For several years there has been much conversation by the telephone companies about transmitting pictures on regular telephone circuits.

This would mean that, when you place a telephone call, you could see the person to whom you are speaking. It may be in effect in some places, but so far we do not have such service in Hope. Like everything else, it has advantages and disadvantages.

If and when it does come to pass and we have it in our homes, it will really change some things. There will be no more slipping on a bar of soap, shivering in a wet towel dripping all over the place while you answer the phone! That old excuse, "sitting up with a sick friend or detained at the office" will be OUT!

The old wrap - around, hair done up in curlers, early-morning look will have to go. We women will have to be neat as a pin from dawn to dark, just in case the phone rings!

On the other hand, we at Raley's Style Shoppe can see some advantages. We could call you, for instance, right today and show you the top ten Jon McCauley and Minx Modes dresses we have in stock for spring. The pure silk dress, so elegantly simple with its below-elbow sleeves, high round neckline, in black and navy for only $25.95. Beautiful with furs. The City Costume, rayon-silk linen, semi-sheath dress, covered in chenille polka dots, perfect for early spring, $39.95. The Spring Floral Shirtwaist or sheath "paradise" crepe of Dacron Polyester, as washable as a hankie, in heavenly pink, blue or yellow, $22.95.

The Spectator Sheath textured "Capri" rayon, smart as a whip for only $14.95. And, of course, you would want to see the three-piece, the Rayon/Acetate Boucle with its contrasting blouse, complete at $25.95.

And a large collection of spring millinery in straw and flowers. $5.00 and $22.95. Yes, we would be calling all women today... inviting you to shop at Raley's Style Shoppe, Hope's House of Fashion on West Third St.

UAW Going After Fringe Benefits

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union, whose contracts often set national patterns, is going to drive hard for improved fringe benefits, particularly pensions, in 1964.

The UAW is leaving no doubt that fringe improvement will be an all-out goal, even if the union unexpectedly were to pass up seeking a substantial wage increase, or possibly profit-sharing, in the wake of one of the auto industry's most lucrative years.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he will not ask contracts which would result in price increases, but he wrote President Johnson the industry could cut car prices $200 and still grant wage increases and fringe benefits.

Ford Motor Co. reported that fringes such as pensions, life and hospital-medical insurance and supplemental unemployment benefits cost 77 cents for every hour worked by every production employee in 1962. A spokesman estimated 1963 costs were "substantially higher."

General Motors said employee insurance cost it $175 million in 1962; supplemental unemployment benefits $42 million, and 40,236 retirees drew $42 million in pensions.

Fringe figure breakdowns for 1963 are not available from any of the automakers. The bureau of Labor Statistics reports the hourly straight-time pay of auto workers averaged $3.

Wages have risen seven cents an hour on a cost-of-living escalator carried forward in the two-year contracts which expire Aug. 31. For every .5 of a point the cost of living index rises or falls, wages go up or down a penny an hour.

What's My Line Now in 15th Year

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — "What's My Line?" began its 15th year on television Sunday night. That is a notable feat in an industry where programs age fast and die young.

On its anniversary, the show's panel failed to nail down the occupation of a man who runs a clinic on how to stop smoking. Identified with ease the line of a young woman who races greyhounds, and was almost fooled by the mystery guest, comedian George Burns.

All this was familiar stuff to millions of viewers. "What's My Line?" is a national habit and an institution.

The program maintains an air of slight formality and considerable style.

"Candid Camera," which precedes it, is younger and considerably more brash.

It is an enormously popular program consisting, usually, of a string of practical jokes, elaborately planned and sometimes a little cruel.

Both of the CBS programs have done extremely well in their late Sunday spots, partly because rival NBC has had a widely diversified anthology series at the same time. Viewers never know quite what to expect on NBC. At least they are sure of some smiles on CBS.

ABC is doing a masterly job of covering the widely varied events in the winter Olympics at Innsbruck, Austria. The camera work is clear and, almost as important, so are the explanations for those of us who don't know the fine points of skiing, skating or bobsledding.

DOROTHY DIX

TEEN-AGE SON HER HEADACHE

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: My 16-year-old son seems to think he should be allowed to roam the town nights with four other kids the same age. They loiter on street corners, play juke boxes in cafes and go goodness where else. My husband will say to me that he always had to let his parents know where he was going when he was a boy but he won't say boo to our son. I have to do the disciplining. I've told our boy again and again that he must tell me where he goes and with whom but I might as well talk to a clam.

I've said, "Bring your friends home for me to pass on first," but he won't, giving as an excuse that he doesn't get along with his Dad, which is true enough.

Another thing, instead of taking part in after-school activities, he works every evening from two to four hours at $1 an hour. This doesn't seem normal. A boy his age should be playing basketball or some other sport with his schoolmates. However, his grades are average. He graduates from high next year but doesn't want to go to college, saying he has no liking for study.

As a rule we can iron out our differences but he's balking at my latest ruling; out three nights a week till 11 with 12:30 curfew on Saturdays — that's when he dances or skates. Now he accuses me of not being as lenient as other mothers. His sister used to tell me the same thing. My reply was, "So long as you're under the roof of your parents you will abide by the rules of this home." Today, she is a successful nurse and well-adjusted daughter of whom I'm proud. I'm trying to give her brother the same upbringing. When I tell him so he says, "Quit comparing me with Sis. We're not the same." — Disturbed Mother

Dear Disturbed: Your husband is most at fault. It is his duty to help train his son and until he participates in the disciplining, your problem will not be solved.

Tell him so. Say that marriage is a partnership. You're doing your share, he must assume responsibility too. To get the best results it is important that father and son see eye to eye. Find out why your son doesn't get along with his Dad and set about healing the breach. Deliberately plan outings for them. When your husband has yard chores to do, ask the boy to help him. Play up the father-son relationship and stay in the background yourself. Once they become pals the training will follow naturally.

Actually, your boy doesn't seem to be a bad sort. Certainly it is to his credit that he earns his own money. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "How To Get Along With an Adolescent." Ask your husband to read it.

Dear Helen: Can you tell me how to forget that my husband has been with another woman? I forgave him because he told me everything and said he was sorry but when I'm alone all I can think about is this other woman. The truth came out when I called his attention to a smudge of lipstick on his shirt front. He broke down and

German Security Officer a Suicide

DORTMUND, Germany (AP) — Ewald Peters, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's chief security officer, hanged himself during the night in the jail where he was being held on suspicion of war crimes, the state prosecutor's office announced today.

The prosecutor's office said Peters, in his 50s, used a bed sheet for a rope and tied it to the window of his cell.

Peters had made security arrangements for Erhard's trip to visit President Johnson in Texas last December as well as for his recent visits to London and Rome. He was arrested in Bonn last Friday after he returned from Rome with the chancellor.

He was being held in the Bonn jail on suspicion of taking part in mass killing of Jews in the Soviet Union during World War II.

Clears Way for Hospital Construction

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today cleared the way for county hospital construction in Desha County by approving results of a Sept. 10, 1963 bond election.

A suit filed by Kenneth M. Hollis had attacked results of the election on grounds that voters were not permitted to vote separately on proposed construction projects at McGehee and Dumas and that the county was not entitled to issue bonds for equipping hospitals as stated in the election order.

The Supreme Court said that considered the two projects as part of one hospital. The county proposes to build a new hospital at McGehee and to expand the present hospital at Dumas.

Voters approved a $240,000 issue for the unit at McGehee and $160,000 for the Dumas unit.

The Supreme Court said that the two projects would be administered by the same board and that constitutional amendments 17 and 25 which authorize bond issues for hospitals did not require separate vote on separate units of the same hospital.

The court also said that building and equipping a hospital is considered a single enterprise because an empty building could not serve hospital purposes.

The ruling affirmed Desha Chancery Court.

Craighead Chancery Court was upheld in holding that the city of Jonesboro had failed to prove that the east 46 feet of Block 52 of Knight's Second Addition to the city had been dedicated as a street.

The city had filed suit against Chester P. Agee but the court said evidence introduced at the trial failed to show that the 46 feet had been dedicated.

The court said that the plan for the second addition, filed in 1891, showed only that the east 16 feet of the property had been dedicated, probably as an alley.

A ruling by Benton Chancery Court that the Peterson Produce Co. of Decatur was not entitled to a use tax exemption on some incubators it bought in 1956, 1957 and 1958 was upheld.

Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney filed a $1,250 use tax claim against the company because the incubators were bought outside the state. The use tax is three per cent and corresponds to the sales tax on items bought inside Arkansas.

The Peterson Co. contended that the incubators were used in processing baby chicks and as such were exempt from the use tax under sections of the law which exempt machinery used in processing.

The Supreme Court said the Group Raises Money for Candidate

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A group called Dollars for Democracy has been formed here to raise funds for a gubernatorial candidate, and the group picked an Arkansas Tech faculty member as its candidate.

John Tatum of Danville said the group has picked Army Capt. Joe Hubbard, 32, a member of the Reserve Officer Training Corps faculty.

Hubbard, a native of Success in Clay County, said he would have no comment on his possible candidacy now. He is a graduate of Ouachita Baptist College at Arkadelphia.

Tatum, a former Tech student who resigned as purchasing agent at a Russellville hospital to run the fund drive, said Dollars for Democracy was for "to provide a program so all the people of Arkansas can support a candidate of the people and not of any special group."

He said the group picked Hubbard as its candidate because Hubbard "has the youth, energy, ingenuity and Christian character to provide the leadership necessary for Arkansas to assume its proper place in the family of states."

exemption was intended to apply only to machinery used in manufacture and it did not feel that the company was "manufacturing" baby chicks.

Boycott Threat at Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Three pro-segregation groups have threatened to boycott 14 Pine Bluff retail stores which plan to integrate employment.

The merchants said they are considering employment of "all qualified persons, regardless of race, creed or color, according to their abilities."

Their announcement brought protests from L. D. Poynter, chairman of the Arkansas White Citizens Council; J. D. Bass, Bass, who said he was speaking for the Ku Klux Klan, and C. D. Green of the national Patriots League.

Bass added white applicants for jobs at the stores had been done a grave injustice.

Green said his group, which numbers "at least two or three thousand," would join the boycott.

Rev. Ben Grinage, chairman of the integrationist Pine Bluff Movement, said the merchants' plans indicated a true concern for the growth and stability of the community in which the stores have to do business.

No Drainage Tax on Right of Way Land

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court held in a precedent setting 4-3 opinion today that the State Highway Commission does not have to pay drainage district taxes on land it acquires for rights of way.

The opinion was returned in a case involving the Highway Commission and Sub-District No. 3 of Grassy Lake and Tyrone District No. 9 in Mississippi County but it would apply to districts anywhere in the state.

The ruling reversed Circuit Judge Edward Maddox, who had held that the commission should pay the drainage district $1,307 in taxes due on two tracts, totaling 61.5 acres involved in the suit.

The Highway Commission has taken more than 1,000 acres in several east Arkansas drainage districts for construction of Interstate Highway 55.

Associate Justice George Rose Smith wrote the majority opinion for himself and Justices Jim Johnson, Paul Ward and Sam Robinson.

Smith wrote that if the court held that the land was subject to drainage district taxes, every tract of land taken in any eminent domain proceeding would be subject to future taxation.

He countered arguments that other landholders in the districts would have to pay any taxes lost by saying, "That some shift in the tax burden may take place is merely one of the risks that every taxpayer incurs."

Justice Ed McFaddin wrote a dissenting opinion in which he was joined by Chief Justice Carleton Harris and Associate Justice Frank Holt.

McFaddin said he could agree that a drainage district or other taxing power could not assess taxes on public land if the land were already public when the improvement for which the tax is levied is made.

But McFaddin said Section 50-401 of Arkansas Statutes requires the person or agency acquiring a piece of property to pay the taxes due on it and the statute does not excuse the Highway Commission or any other state agency.

The majority opinion said its

THE STORY: Police are investigating Chet Covalt's death, which at first appeared to be an accident.

We bird-boys were still going strong, and breakfast had holding was, "the unavoidable consequence of the state's sovereign immunity from taxation."

reached the coffee and tobacco stage, when Maggie snapped, "That's a police car coming up the drive. You better take your coffee and beat it, Duffey."

Without leaving her chair, Maggie was arranging the table so that I might never have been there. I grabbed the morning paper on the sideboard as I went out the door.

With the last of my coffee I read the morning paper in my room. Because Covalt was a local boy, his sudden death had made the front page. The horse hadn't come down on him, but it was believed he had been hit by the flying rear left hoof when he spilled.

I found my motorcycle riders on an inside page. Mike Alogre had died yesterday afternoon and added a statistic to the state's traffic - death toll. Vincente Llopis was still unconscious in Good Shepherd Hospital. The cause of the accident was unknown.

It was maybe 20 minutes later when Maggie busted into the room followed by Gail and Herbert.

"Covalt was murdered yesterday. This morning the coroner called Frazier to tell him it was not a hoof that did Covalt in. Coroner had just pulled a pellet from a high-powered air rifle out of Covalt's skull from behind his left ear. Frazier's been busy since then. Talked to the bartenders from the Pony. They have put Gail there, also you, as the stranger in colored glasses who picked her up 10 minutes after Covalt was killed. When he talks to the bunch who were at the Winstons', he'll get to who you are."

I glanced past Maggie to Gail.

"Maggie told him if he wanted to take me with him, he better have a warrant for my arrest. Also a charge he could make stick."

I pushed my way up out of the chair. "I'd better get along."

"Shut up," Maggie snapped. "and don't be a fool. Maybe I can bluff Frazier for a couple of hours, maybe it's going to take him that much time to get onto the fact of who brought Gail to the Winstons and who left the Winstons with Gail and me. Don't you underestimate Frazier or the County Sheriff's boys or the Phoenix police or the State Highway Patrol. They're spread thin, but they're good men and they work together. You couldn't get halfway to Nogales before one of them would come out from behind a cactus to get you."

"It's not your problem," I told her.

"I told you last night I would not hesitate to hire private detectives. Now I'm going to. Meanwhile, you and Gail have to be out of the way."

"Why?"

"Because you're sitting pigeons. Gail hasn't any good sense when it comes to mourning for her husband; because you're a patsy. Duffey, a lamb waiting to be led to slaughter. Because if you weren't what you are, I'd hire you to make love to me."

"Maggie!" shouted Herbert. "These detectives," I asked her, "what are you going to tell them?"

"Find out who killed Covalt!"

Fears Music of Dixieland May Be Lost

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — "It's sad," said Ben Pollack, one of the great names of jazz.

"In another 10 years our era will be gone, and there will be no one to show the new generation what real Dixieland is like."

The famed bandleader of the 1920s and 1930s had returned to his desert home after attending last week's funeral of the great trombonist, Jack Teagarden. Like many of the big names of the jazz and swing eras, Jack had been one of Ben's boys.

Pollack, 60, can look back on a half-century in the music business.

"I really started playing drums professionally when I was 10 and worked for an auto ride at half a buck," said the Chicago-born musician. "But my first steady work was with the New Orleans Rhythm Band which I joined in 1918."

By 1923 he had formed his own band to play in a dance hall near Los Angeles. The next year a boy of 15 arrived from Chicago a lad Ben had seen doing imitations of Ted Lewis. Ben bought him some long pants and gave him a job playing clarinet, and that's how Benny Goodman started in the band business.

Miller, a young trombonist from Colorado, joined Ben in 1925. Others who played under Ben's direction include Ray McKinley, Bud Freeman, Jimmy McPartland, Matty Mattlock, Charlie Spivak, Charlie Teagarden, Ray Bauduc, Eddie Miller and Nappy Lamarr.

Ben drifted out of the band

Can Spot Crowd and an Issue

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — G.E. Carlson, running for city safety commissioner, can spot a crowd and an issue anytime.

Nice weather brought dozens of citizens to the city dump Sunday with loads of trash in a pre-spring cleanup. Waiting at the dump to buttonhole voters was candidate Carlson. He's opposed to compulsory garbage collection.

business during the war, partly at the urging of Miller.

"Glenn hated agents," Ben said, "and he talked to me before he went into the service about setting up our own agency to develop new bands. He told me to go ahead with it, and I did. But Glenn didn't come back."

After the war Ben tried the record business, then ran a successful jazz joint on the Sunset Strip in Hollywood for nine years. A siege of hepatitis laid him low, then he had an automobile accident. But he's feeling fit now and getting set to resume his long romance with jazz.

He'll soon be opening a club. He has another abiding interest: A Glenn Miller memorial.

"I spoke to some of the jazzmen at Jack's funeral and they thought it was a good idea," he said. "So do a lot of Palm Springs people. My idea is to take some of the most talented high school musicians from all over the country and bring them here to study for a few weeks with people like myself who could teach them the old style of playing."

"Without something like this, the kind of music we knew will die out. Kids nowadays have the musical ability to play good jazz, but they lack the training. There's no way they can get it."

Questions Widow of Lee Oswald

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential panel today questions the young widow of Lee Harvey Oswald on what she knows about the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The first witness to appear before the commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, blonde Russian-born Marina Oswald has been living in seclusion since the slaying of her husband Nov. 24, two days after the President was murdered.

Mrs. Oswald, 22, has been under the custody of Secret Service agents and several presumably were aboard the plane which carried her to Washington Sunday night from Dallas. Other agents were at National Airport when she arrived.

The Warren commission has said Mrs. Oswald is testifying voluntarily. Plans originally were to hear her in Dallas.

Tuesday in a copyrighted interview with radio - television station KRLD, Dallas, Mrs. Oswald said she was convinced her husband had killed Kennedy.

Oswald, 24, had been charged with the assassination of Kennedy, the fatal shooting of Dallas policeman J. D. Tippitt and the attempted murder of Texas Gov. John B. Connally, who was wounded in the attack on the President.

As Oswald was being transferred from the Dallas City Hall to the county jail he was fatally shot. Jack Ruby, Dallas night club operator, is charged with the slaying.

Asia, Africa Events Cast a Shadow

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Events in Asia and Africa cast a grim shadow over the future, raising the prospect—perhaps still years away—of a world divided into hostile white and nonwhite camps.

Chain reaction explosions in Africa and shifting political patterns in Asia may be traceable, at least in part, to the battle royal between the Soviet Union and Communist China over what directions the world Communist movement should take.

This battle, which began in earnest about five or six years ago, had led Communist China to strike out on its own in those underdeveloped areas of the world where Peking seems to feel it can make the swiftest progress.

The Red Chinese are making some headway, too, and this likely is a source of alarm not only to the United States but to the man in the Kremlin. Willy nilly, events may push the Soviet Union and the United States closer together as the two powers with the greatest responsibilities and the most at stake.

The cold war picture is affected by the behavior of President Charles de Gaulle's France, which appears to be acting out a role of catalyst speeding up the action and reaction of new forces released by the Soviet-Chinese conflict.

Perhaps De Gaulle, noting the decreasing communication between Peking and Moscow, sees France as a prospective bridge between Red China and the West. There are no signs that Peking is looking for any such bridge.

It is possible that De Gaulle sees a good chance of salvaging something of what France once had in the way of authority in the East and in Africa, and that he also sees advantages in getting in on the ground floor in trade with Red China. But if the lessons of the past are any guide France likely will be wary. She tried a decade ago to salvage something out of her crumbling Southeast Asian empire and came out of it empty-handed.

What France may be doing these days, however, is conferring sufficient stature upon the Red Chinese regime to tip the scales at the next session of the United Nations and force Peking's entry at the expense of Nationalist China. Even the threat of such a development—in an American presidential year—can cause political turmoil.

This writer has just returned from the Middle East, where responsible Western diplomats are exhibiting deep worry about the treaty alliances and the sporadic explosions in Africa—Zanzibar, Tanganyika, Uganda and possibly other areas later on. These may be earmarking 1964 as a bad year for the world's peace of mind.

Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai has been touring Africa, asserting Peking's intention to seize the leadership of the non-white world and turn it against imperialists.

With the state of relations between the Chinese and Soviet Communist parties, even the Soviet Union and the European Communists it commands can be equated in the Chinese mind with the imperialist camp.

Peking has displayed deep satisfaction with the way things are going in the underdeveloped countries and with what it calls the "national liberation movement." To Peking's way of thinking, a national liberation movement is any violent movement which expels U.S. and Western influence. The Soviet Union has accused the Red Chinese of using racial feelings to advance its claim to leadership of this violence and of deliberately setting white against non-white.

Moscow regards all this so seriously that it would be no surprise if Premier Khrushchev braves the torrid springtime heat of Africa and drops in on festivities in connection with completion of the first phase of the United Arab Republic's Aswan Dam.

Such a trip might be intended less as a ceremonial attendance

MILITARY SERVICE: WHO GOES, WHO DOESN'T

PROJECTION OF 18-YEAR-OLD MEN AND ESTIMATED REJECTIONS IF EXAMINATIONS WERE GIVEN AT 18

One third of all men in the nation turning 18 would be found unqualified if they were examined for induction. Of these, about one half would be rejected for medical reasons and the remainder would fail through inability to qualify on the mental test, according to the President's Task Force on Manpower Conservation. The total of potential rejections would rise to more than 600,000 a year for the rest of the decade.

DRAFTEE DISQUALIFICATION RATES BY STATE, 1962

One out of every two selective service registrants called for preinduction examination is now found unqualified, according to the President's Task Force on Manpower Conservation. The rate of failure varies widely among the different states. In the 1962 examinations, as shown above, the state with the highest proportion of persons failing the mental exam—South Carolina—had a rate 19 times as great as the state with the lowest—Washington.

Non-political Trip for Nixon

MISENHEIMER, N.C. (AP) —Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, on a "strictly nonpolitical" trip to North Carolina, speaks on foreign affairs today at Pfeiffer College.

Nixon, who flew to Greensboro Sunday from New York, took 25 minutes to move through a large crowd that met him at the airport.

He told newsmen he didn't expect to be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, but reiterated that he would do "whatever is necessary to help select the strongest candidate and to elect him."

Orderly Person Is the Lint Picker of the Human Race, Emperor of the Pigeon Hole

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals to the disorganized mass of mankind is the orderly person.

The orderly person is the lint picker of the human race, the emperor of the pigeon hole.

He believes everything has its proper place, and if he can't find any other place for it he puts it in the waste basket.

Neatness often is praised as a virtue whereas, in fact, it more often is a vice—if not a downright sin.

There are basically only two types of people—the hoarders and the discarders.

The hoarders are the clutter-bugs of this world. They are normal.

They never throw anything away. Anything that happens to them is worth saving—be it a tooth broken in kindergarten, a love letter received in college, or a pair of combat boots worn in war.

The hoarder is afraid to throw anything away because he never knows when it might turn out to be useful. His voyage through existence becomes happily baggage-ridden, and wherever he takes a fresh step he creates a new debris.

The orderly person, on the other hand, is a fellow who turns something into nothing. He is like a man trying to bail himself out of a sinking lifeboat. He is so busy throwing things away that when he finally departs it is as if he had never been there.

In my opinion the compulsively neat person is the victim of an inhuman malady. This has to be here, that has to be there—and before he goes to sleep at night he has to write little memos to himself about how he will organize tomorrow. It is as

Shoes of Plastic Discussed at Meet

MEMPHIS (AP)—The American Institute of Chemical Engineers begins its convention today with talks on how to make shoes out of plastic and turn petroleum into food.

Donald A. Dahlstrom, president of the institute, said Sunday that "in about five years people will be wearing clothes made out of paper and discarding them after one day's use."

Real-Life Folks Making Real Dough

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Those real-life, folks-next door characters who populate so many of the television commercials these days are real life, folks-next-door characters making a nice piece of change for talking up the product.

Some of them were not aware at the time that they were "performers" entitled to fees. They were hit ones caught by a hidden camera as they earnestly extolled the virtues of laundry aids, toothpaste or a favorite headache remedy.

But these lucky persons immediately become eligible for a minimum $108 "session fee," established under the performers' union rules—although one-shot "performers" need not join the union.

After that come the residual payments, depending upon how often and where the commercials are used.

A hidden camera appearance could result in a tidy sum of money.

Assume an average housewife is chosen for a TV testimonial commercial. The sales pitch in which she appears is used 20 times in the course of network shows over a period of 21 weeks. She would receive a check for a minimum of $900. An additional 13 weeks of exposure could net her another $900 or so. It could total a few thousand dollars.

Although not a likely candidate for survival, CBS' "Garry Moore Show" has not yet been officially condemned to death after this season. Henry Morgan is on vacation and will be missing from Friday night's "That Was the Week That Was" but Art Carney will be among the performers. Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, will be interviewed Sunday on CBS' "Face the Nation."

The name of the theme song of NBC's "International Show Time" is "Dumpy" by Paul Anka. The usual programs were at the head of the most recent Nielsen top 10 list—"Beverly Hillsbillies," and "Bonanza." CBS' "My Favorite Martian" has climbed into the No. 9 position, between Ed Sullivan and the Lucy Show. Others on the list were the Dick Van Dyke Show, "Petticoat Junction," "Candid Camera," and the Andy Griffith Show. The Rose Bowl game, a special, was in fourth place.

Bobcats Going to Ashdown Tuesday Night

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Editor

Taking time out from their strenuous conference schedule, the Bobcats travel to Ashdown tonight for a non-loop match. The Senior Girls will also make the trip.

The Girl's game will be at 7:00, and the Boys' bout should get under way around 8:00.

Saturday night one of the Cats' most important games will come up when the Leopards of Malvern come to Hope. This will be the ultimate test of the "There's no place like home" theory. Fans and team members alike have been looking forward to this one for a long while.

Doug Jones' Manager to Europe

NEW YORK (AP) — Doug Jones' manager planned to leave for Europe today in an attempt to line up lucrative fights for his heavyweight contender against either Floyd Patterson or German Karl Mildenberger.

Jones, 26-year-old second-ranking contender from New York, stopped big, brawny Tom McNeeley of Arlington, Mass., on a technical knockout in five rounds at the Coliseum Monday night. The tuneup showed the ring-rusty ex-GI was ready for faster competition again.

Jones knew where he was headed from the opening bell against McNeeley. The 194 New Yorker, a 3-1 favorite, was in control all the way against his 208-pound opponent.

He cut Tom over the left eye in the second round and bloodied his nose in the third round. In the fourth Jones floored the bleeding ex-football tackle with a barrage of punches. Dr. Alexander Schiff ordered the fight stopped at the end of the fifth round when examination showed McNeeley's nose was broken.

It was the second time McNeeley has been stopped in 37 fights. Patterson, when he was champion, scored a four round TKO over him in a title fight at Toronto Dec. 14, 1961.

South Now Respectable in Basketball

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Like any good Kentucky colonel, Adolph Rupp had a couple of kind words to say about the South.

"One of my greatest satisfactions is seeing the South — once the laughing stock of the nation in basketball — now respectable and with teams rated among the top ten nationally."

Rupp made the observation Monday night after his Kentucky Wildcats knocked off Georgia 103-83 and; 1, took over sole possession of the Southeastern Conference lead; 2, provided Rupp with his 700th coaching victory and 3, prompted him to do a bit of reflecting.

Southern basketball was, as Rupp observed in pretty sad shape when he took over the Kentucky reins as a 29-year-old coach.

But that was some 33 years, four national championships and 700 victories ago.

In that time, under the leadership of Rupp and Kentucky, the Southland has emerged as one of the nation's strongest basketball areas.

Proof? Look at the national rankings. Four of the nation's top ten come from the South; No. 3 Kentucky, No. 5 Davidson, No. 7 Duke and No. 8 Vanderbilt.

Both Kentucky and Vanderbilt protected those high ratings Monday, Vandy with a 111-73 romp over Alabama but second-ranked Michigan had its troubles.

The Wolverines, the only other ranked team in action, was edged out by Ohio State 86-85. It was Michigan's first loss in the Big Ten and only the second defeat in 17 starts for the Wolverines.

Ohio State trailed by nine points three times in the first half but rallied for an 81-73 lead with three minutes to go. The Wolverines closed to within one before time ran out.

The Buckeyes' Gary Bradds sparked their upset effort with 42 points.

In Athens, Ga., site of Rupp's first loss as a Kentucky coach Feb. 13, 1931, Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken led the charge for No. 700. Nash tossed in 33 points and Deeken added 29 as the Wildcats moved to a 16-2 overall record.

Vanderbilt, upset by Auburn over the weekend, bounced back against Alabama. The Commodores had eight players scoring in double figures, led by Clyde Lee with 15. The 111-point total represented the most points ever scored against an Alabama team.

In some of the other major games, Kansas State had to go overtime to beat Nebraska 73-66. Nick Werkman scored 41 points and led Seton Hall to a 110-86 romp over Wagner, Colorado upset Oklahoma State 63-59 and gained a share of the Big Eight lead, while Washington of St. Louis put on a fantastic second half shooting show, hitting 16 of 21 attempts from the floor, in a 75-68 conquest of Drake.

UCLA Stays Unbeaten, Ranked Tops

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Unbeaten UCLA, only major college basketball team with a perfect record, remained in the No. 1 position today in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The UCLA Bruins drew 43 first place votes among the 49 cast by the panel of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters. The six other writers ranked them second.

Defeats of Davidson, Vanderbilt and DePaul shook up the Top Ten but nobody was knocked out. Davidson dropped from third to fifth after losing its first game to West Virginia 75-73. Vanderbilt tumbled from fifth to eighth after bowing to Auburn 81-63. DePaul slipped one rung to 10th after losing to Louisville 83-79.

Michigan remained in second place by boosting its record to 15-1 with a 95-79 romp over Michigan State. UCLA, however rolled over the Santa Barbara branch of the University of California in two games to make it 17-0 for the year. Michigan drew five firsts but trailed UCLA in points 484-429.

Kentucky advanced a peg to third at 15-2 on a victory over Florida and Wichita whipped both Cincinnati and Marquette for a 16-3 record and moved up from seventh to fourth. Fifth-place Davidson bounced back from its first defeat and clobbered VMI 129-91.

Villanova held tight to sixth by downing American University and Detroit. Duke moved up to seventh on victories over South Carolina and Navy. Vanderbilt, in eighth place, was pursued closely by Chicago Loyola, which won three games during the week over Dayton, Western Michigan and Iowa.

All records were based on games played through Saturday, Feb. 1.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. UCLA (43) 484
2. Michigan (5) 429
3. Kentucky 372
4. Wichita 265
5. Davidson (1) 251
6. Villanova 242
7. Duke 199
8. Vanderbilt 121
9. Chicago Loyola 114
10. DePaul 75

Finley, KC Officials Meet Again

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles O. Finley will meet with city officials again Thursday but there is no indication whether it will bring any break in the long deadlock over a stadium lease for his Kansas City Athletics.

The American League ordered Finley to sign a lease by Feb. 1 or face expulsion after rejecting by a 9-1 vote his bid to move the club to Louisville Jan. 16. The league later extended the deadline to Feb. 15.

City Manager Carleton F. Sharpe said Finley in a telephone call from Chicago Monday didn't say whether he would make any new proposals at the meeting. Sharpe set the meeting for 9 a.m. CST.

Last week a meeting ended with Finley and the city farther apart than ever. The city stood firm in its contention a four-year pact is needed to stabilize the troubled franchise and end repeated threats of the club leaving the city.

Finley insisted he would risk bankruptcy by signing a lease for more than two years. But he rejected the city's offer to insert a clause in the lease permitting him to leave if threatened by bankruptcy.

Play Underway in 7B District at Spring Hill

District 7B, west, district play got underway at Spring Hill Monday with six games being played. Six more are on tap Tuesday beginning at 12:30 p.m.

In play yesterday Laneburg Junior Boys were edged by Bodcaw 28 to 27 in a real close one. Laneburg Senior Boys also found the winning combination taking Emmet 57 to 53 while Saratoga downed Spring Hill Senior Boys 59-54.

The Guernsey Junior girls had practically no trouble with Laneburg 57 to 17 and the Saratoga Senior Girls downed Blevins 37 to 28.

Starting at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday six more games will be played and six will be played Wednesday.

Eagles Owner to Pick a Coach

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jerry Wolman, millionaire Washington builder who officially became the new owner of the National Football League Philadelphia Eagles Monday, is considering "at least half a dozen" for the job as head coach of the team.

Wolman said he is still looking for a replacement for Nick Skorich and admitted there is a time problem in picking a new coach. He hopes to have an announcement within two weeks.

"We feel it is more important to make sure we get the right man than getting him quickly," Wolman said after settling his purchase of the franchise for $5,505,500.

U.S. Skater Finally Wins a Gold Medal

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Terry McDermott, a barber from Essexville, Mich., cracked the Soviet Union's long-time speed skating monopoly and won the first gold medal for the United States with a 500-meter victory today in the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

The 23-year-old former Michigan Tech student, who clips hair and shaves customers in his dad's barber shop, trimmed one-tenth of a second off the Olympic record by flashing the 54.6 seconds in 40.1 seconds.

The record had been set at Cortina, Italy, in 1956 by the Soviet Union's Eugene Grishin, who finished in a triple tie for second, Orlov and Alv Giestvang of Norway, all clocked in 40.6.

McDermott outsped 43 skaters from 19 countries in giving the United States its first speed skating medal since 1952, when Ken Henry won the 500.

The medal was the third for the United States, with a silver and a bronze won previously by spunky Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore., in the ladies' giant slalom and slalom on the skiing slopes of Lizum Valley.

Earlier, a skiing marksman from the Soviet Union, Vladimir Melanin, won the tough biathlon test and Germans dominated both the men's and women's individual events in tobogganing, a new Olympic event.

Scotty Allen, the 15-year-old U.S. champion from Smoke Rise N.J., moved ahead of France's favored Alain Calmat into third place on the fourth of five compulsory figures in the men's figure skating competition.

Monty Hoyt, 19, of Denver, also improved his position, climbing to sixth. Manfred Schneldorfer of Germany leads with 790.1 points, followed by Karol Divin of Czechoslovakia, with 776.8. Allen is close at 776.0. Hoyt has 712.9 points.

Free skating, in which both Allen and Hoyt excel, climaxes the competition Thursday.

The Russians, with two medals in the biathlon and two silvers in the 500-meter speed skating tie, boosted their total to 19 — more than twice that of second place Germany, with 8.

Just when it seemed as if the United States would be shut out of any first places in the Games, McDermott uncorked a superb race to overtake the three leaders.

Eddie Rudolph of Northbrook, Ill., knowing he had to do 40.6 or better to stand any chance of a medal — only just missed it. He was clocked in 40.9.

Tom Gray of Bloomington, the other American entrant, did 41.5.

The Germans finished 1-2-3 in the men's tobogganing—known as luge in Europe—and 1-2 in the women's, with the bronze medal going to Austria.

The luge is a small sled, little more than a wooden plank and two iron runners, on which European children slide down snow banks.

The Olympic luge track for men measures 1,100 yards with 18 tricky, hairpin bends. An unusual thaw made the track overnight freeze made it light-almost unusable Monday but running fast.

Thomas Koehler of Germany, a 23-year-old student, won the men's individual tobogganing title by sweeping down the course four times in 3 minutes, 26.77 seconds.

His teammate, Klaus Michael Bonsack, a locksmith, registered 3:27.04, with the best time of all on his final run of 52.42 seconds. Hans Plenk made it a sweep in 3:30.15.

The women's luge title went to Ortun Enderlein, 24-year-old East German factory worker, who shot down the course four times in a total of 3 minutes, 24.67.

Ilse Geisler, a teammate, was second in 3:27.42 followed by Helene Thurner, a 25-year-old Austrian housemaid, in 3:29.06.

The lone U.S. entry, Dorothy Hirschland of Closter, N.J., withdrew after the first run.

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—An Austrian cook and a sturdy American girl are almost all that stand in the way of France in cleaning up the Alpine events in the ninth winter Olympic Games.

The Austrian, Egon Zimmermann, won the men's downhill and will be a strong contender Saturday in the slalom.

The American girl, Jean Saubert, added the silver medal in the women's giant slalom Monday to the bronze she won previously in the special slalom. The Oregon State University coed is a favorite in the women's downhill Thursday.

France went right on winning glory in the Alpine events—so distinguished from the Nordic events because they are swift descents of mountain trails rather than cross country races or jumps.

It was Gotschel again Monday in the women's giant slalom, only this time it was Marielle, 18, instead of her older sister, Christine, 19.

Marielle, who along with her sister received a telegram of congratulations from President De Gaulle, took the giant slalom gold medal with the sensational time of 1:52.24.

She was almost a second faster than her sister, Christine, and Jean Saubert, who tied for second at 1:54.11—a tie without precedent in Olympic annals and seemingly impossible now that electric clocks measuring in hundredths of a second are used.

The Gotschel sisters are also without precedent as a one-two punch in the Olympics. Christine won the special slalom with Marielle second and Jean Saubert third.

Never before has a sister combination won both the gold and silver medals in an event, let alone doing it twice.

Under Olympic rules both Miss Saubert and Miss Christine received silver medals.

A Frenchman, Francois Bonlieu, won the men's giant slalom gold medal Sunday, giving France three out of the four Alpine gold medals contested.

It has been a stunning performance for a country that will next host the Winter Olympics. And France may well go into the 1968 Olympics at Grenoble as the defending Alpine champion.

In the only other gold medal event contested Monday, Tormod Knutsen of Norway made such excellent time in the 15-kilometer (9.4 miles) cross-country ski race that he overcame the advantage that 1960 champion Georg Thoma held at the end of his ski jump in the Nordic combined event.

Knutsen won first with 469.28 points. Thoma, a German, dropped to third with 452.88 points as Nikolay Kiselev of Russia edged into second with 493.04. Knutsen's time was 50:58.6, Kiselev's 51:49.1 and Thoma's 52:31.2.

Today's gold medal events are the men's 500-meter speed skating and the biathlon. The men and women tobogganists also will try to finish their competition if the ice holds out.

A thaw forced a 24-hour postponement of the toboggan finals to today.

One of the state's most unusual industries, located at Emmett, is the Huntington Buggy Works, one of the few builders of horse drawn vehicles operating today.

Results in Little Loop Cage Play

In Little League Basketball Saturday morning, the Cool Cats held on to the league lead by outlasting the Bo-Diddles 19 to 18. The score was tied at 6 all at the half and the lead changed with every basket throughout the second half, with both teams hitting much more consistently. Terry Hair had 8 points for the winners, Danny Turner had 7 and Terry Turner.

In the second game, the Dirt Dobbys continued their winning ways by dropping the Hot Rods 22 to 10. The Hot Rods were playing without the services of Buzz Andrews, who has been a mainstay in their offense all season, but we're taking nothing from the Dirt Dobbys, who have been working hard all season to build a winning ball club and now seem to have the combination. For the Reds, Ayges had 12, Watson 6, Murphy 2 and Haynie 2. McMurrough had 8, and Mayfield 2 for the Greens.

Next Saturday's games should prove very interesting as the Red team takes on the Blues at 10:00 and the Green team, capable of beating anybody on a given day, takes on the league leaders. With four league games to go, the league title is still up for grabs with the standings as follows:

Team	W	L
Cool Cats	4	1
Dirt Dobbys	2	3
Bo-Diddles	2	3
Hot Rods	2	3

Agreement in $50,000 Phoenix Open

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A dispute between the Phoenix Thunderbirds and the Professional Golfers Association has ended in agreement, and the $50,000 Phoenix Open will be played beginning Thursday.

Observers say, however, the disagreement could be the opening of a full-scale war between the PGA and tourney sponsoring groups throughout the nation.

The apparent cause of the conflict is assignment of television rights. It was a major cause of the Phoenix-PGA trouble.

The Phoenix sponsors announced that difficulties with the PGA were worked out late Monday night.

Len Huck, Big Chief for the special events group of the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce would not say what agreements were reached.

He did say that the PGA tourney committee had lifted an edict that any PGA member who played in Phoenix would be suspended for the remainder of the year.

Huck said his group had signed a contract, but did not disclose the terms.
